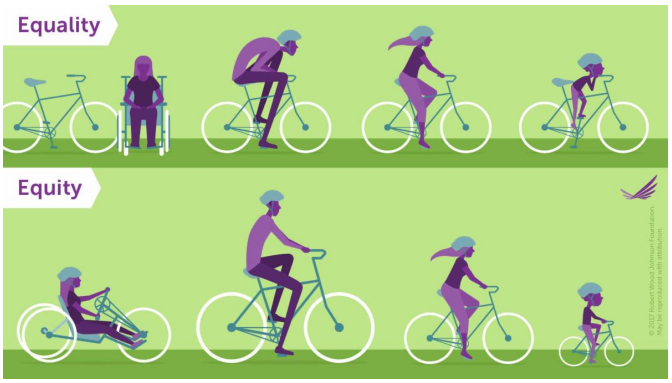
CLEAN AIR FOR ALL

THE SMOKE-FREE PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECT

February 17, 2020

Upcoming Connect Call: Equitable Enforcement



This Connect Call will discuss best practices for equitable enforcement of smoke-free policies. Recently the National Housing Law Project released a guide on this topic entitled "A Guide to Equitable Smoke-Free Public Housing" which focuses on finding the balance between two important public health issues: promoting smoke-free environments and ensuring access to affordable, stable housing.

Bridgett Simmons from the National Housing Law Project will be joining us to discuss the release of NHLP's new manual and key takeaways that are applicable for PHA staff, resident service providers, and residents.

We hope you will join us on February 20, 12:30-1:30 ET.

What is a Connect Call? A Connect Call is a monthly live discussion and Q&A on HUD's smoke-free public housing rule hosted by Clean Air for All. Get answers to your questions about the rule, resident engagement, cessation resources, compliance, and enforcement. Connect Calls are intended for PHA staff, resident services, and resident leaders. Public health advocates are welcome.
